

"BIG TOP" SHOWS IN TULSA TODAY

Sells-Floto Circus Will Give Two Performances
at Barton Grounds.

PARADE AT 11 O'CLOCK

Aggregation Will Arrive on Santa Fe Early This Morning.

Yellow balloons will bob today; peanuts and red lemonade will have their innings; boys will lug water until small arms ache, for Tulsa wakes up this morning with the scent of the sawdust in its nostrils. It's circus day, and the medley of the white tops—calliope hooting, bands blaring and elephants trum-peting—is in the air. Sells-Floto circus, on three red, white and blue trains, is due to steam into the city from Cushing while the city stirs to the call of the white tops. There'll be a lot doing, of course, in the Santa Fe yards from the time the first section comes to a halt until the last red and gold cage rumbles down and runs and is hauled to the Barton circus lot on North Peoria. Then activities on the ground will draw the attention of the crowds. Eleven acres of canvas will be hoisted. Hundreds of people and animals will be fed, and preparations for the long parade

Full Bloods Will Go to Columbus, Ohio, to Meet Cox and Harding

Levi Gritts, Cherokee interpreter and secretary, and Price Cochran will represent the full blood Cherokee in Columbus, Ohio, on August 17 when both the presidential nominees will be the guests of that city. The purpose is purely social, the Cherokees desiring to become personally acquainted with the next president. The annual full blood Cherokee meeting at which it was decided to send these men as delegates was held at Tucker Springs, near Moody early this week. S. R. Lewis and Tate Brady, Tulsa, who attended the meeting, returned home last night. About 500 full bloods were in attendance they said. Speeches were delivered by Congressman W. W. Hastings, national attorney F. J. Houdinot, Bill Mankiller, Tate Brady, Levi Gritts and others.

through the business district will be made. The Sells-Floto street parade is due to arrive downtown shortly before noon. It will proceed at 10:30 a. m. to Adams, to Lansing, to Second, to Main, to Seventh, to Boston, to Fourth and to the grounds. Performances will start at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m.

SQUATTERS MUST MOVE

Completion of Appraisal by Local Committee Shows Only Small Improvement On Land.

The miscellaneous group of nomads that has made up the squatter's colony centering around Frisco avenue between the Sand Springs interurban and Frisco railroad tracks will be dislodged to make way for new buildings as the government appraisal board, now at work on the situation has completed its report to James Davis, national creek attorney at Muskogee. The board, which has just completed its investigation of the Indian bottom land that is included in the objectionable district, is composed of Merritt J. Glass, John H. Miller, and Fletcher H. Platt. Although the total appraised value of the land was approximately $150,000, the improvements were valued between $2,000 and $3,000. After the department of the interior has served notice on the squatters to move, the tomato joints and cheap "choc" storage places will probably give way to more tracks for the two companies that have tracks bordering on the territory.

23rd Annual Midsummer
Sale
The Greatest
Bigger and Better
Than Ever

More Pianos and Player Pianos from which to choose, and every one in the finest condition. Every one priced at figures that are in sharp contrast to present piano costs. In the face of existing conditions, where every article that goes into piano manufacture is costing more, we have placed these instruments in our sale at wonderful reductions. WE SAY THAT OUR 23rd MIDSUMMER SALE offers values that are unequalled, and we invite discriminating musicians to try the tone and action of EVERY PIANO in this sale. Remember, thousands of people in the Southwest will testify to the wonderful values obtained in our midsummer sale in the past. We list a few bargains below—hundreds more.

The Solo Concerto Player Piano $565

With Player Piano Bench and 18 Rolls of Music
(your own selection) Free

We will maintain our introductory price of $565 on the Solo Concerto for this sale. At that price it is a value for which many dealers ask $650 to $700. Has a good player action, pleasing tone, automatic sustaining pedal, silencer button, transposing device and comes with or without mandolin attachment (with mandolin attachment $20 more.) Remember we cannot guarantee this price longer than the sale. Very Easy Payments, if Desired.

Five Carloads of New Mason Pianos at $375

A Feature of This Sale

Instruments that are sweet and rich in tone, well constructed and of beauty in line and case. They are what you would expect to pay from $100 to $150 more for. We purchased these some time ago. At the present market prices we could not possibly duplicate the value.

During the sale, $375 each. Very easy payments. Duet bench to match given with each Mason piano. See, hear and play one of these for yourself. Very Easy Payments.

HUNDREDS OF PLAYER PIANO ROLLS

AT 19c 29c 39c 49c AND 59c
